

We want to hear every “voice” from the congregation during our Holy Conversations. If you did not have the chance to share your responses to our questions during our gathering today, please take a few minutes and offer them below.

What strength or strengths especially resonate with you?

What are the risks we hear God calling us to take?

Where do we want our congregation to be in 3-5 years?

Thank you for taking the time to share your understanding of God’s call for First Georgetown.
